SUMMARY

I'm a third-year software engineering undergraduate student. I'm a dedicated worker, looks for opportunities to work in a fast-paced environment, is self-driven, committed to ongoing technical skill improvement, and is capable of cooperating with others to accomplish group objectives. Building strong relationships with people in order to achieve the best results is a key strength. I excel at competently handling numerous tasks on a daily basis and performing well under pressure. I am always energetic and eager to learn new skills.
